FIREHAWK SLT turf type tall fescue is an all around turf performer. It was rated in the top group in disease resistance in the most current testing versus all other tall fescue varieties. It is a top performer in drought conditions. we estimate the salt screening assisted in it drought performance. For sports turf, it has a high traffic tolerance rating. Under taller mowing conditions with less fertility and irrigation, FIREHawk SLT ranks well in low maintenance turf.

The variety has a pleasing green color that can be a centerpiece of an elite blend with many of the newest tall fescues, perennial ryegrass or Kentucky bluegrasses in turf mixes. It has an open foliar canopy to resist fungal attacks from brown patch disease.

FIREHAWK SLT tall fescue is early to green up in the springtime. It provides a dense turf carpet in the summer and through the fall growing season. This variety is a successful performer in the traditional tall fescue use areas of the United States. FIREHAWK SLT turf type tall fescue will work well for your golf rough and approaches, commercial turf or home lawn care needs.
